

COLLECTION OF EVIDENCE-BASED PRACTICES FOR CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENTS WITH MENTAL HEALTH TREATMENT NEEDS

STUDY PLAN

Study Mandate

The Virginia Commission on Youth is directed to:

- Revise the Collection of Evidence-based Practices for Children and Adolescents with Mental Health Treatment Needs (the “Collection”). The Collection is to be revised biennially pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution 358 (2003).
- Seek the assistance of the Collection Update Advisory Group, Secretary of Health and Human Resources, Secretary of Public Safety, and Secretary of Education in posting, maintaining, and biennially updating the Collection.
- Make the Collection available through web technologies.
- Develop a cost-effective and efficient dissemination method to allow for easy access to the information.

Identified Issues

Background

- The Collection is a resource for providers, families, and other entities and individuals who work with children and adolescents who have mental health treatment needs. The Collection was originally published in 2002 and is updated biennially with the assistance of an advisory group of experts pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution 358 (2003). Since its original publication, the Collection has been widely used and distributed.
- The intent of the Collection is to spread knowledge and awareness about evidence-based practices in the field of child and adolescent mental health. Identifying which treatment modalities are supported by scientific evidence helps families, clinicians, and other mental health decision-makers make informed choices.

7th Edition Update

- The 7th Edition discusses all disorders and issues presented in the 6th Edition, including information relating to juvenile offenders, youth suicide, and antidepressants and the risk of suicide. It has been revised to more directly benefit a non-clinical audience by condensing or removing information targeted to a clinical and academic readers, such as details about scientific studies and extensive citations lists. Information for clinicians related to diagnosis has also been removed, including assessment, specific diagnostic criteria, and cultural considerations for diagnosis. In addition, because this edition focuses on evidence-based treatments, treatments that are not supported by evidence are not discussed at length. Layout has been redesigned to aid in readability and to make the document more user friendly, and glossaries have been updated. Finally, minor updates to content have been made to remedy issues identified by the Advisory Group.
- To complement the 7th Edition, the 6th Edition will continue to be available on the Commission on Youth’s website. The 6th Edition has incorporated information from the revised Diagnostic & Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition, 2013 (DSM-5). The DSM-5 has made several significant changes to its categorization of disorders, which has generated considerable changes in the Collection, 6th Edition. In addition, the DSM-5 no longer separates diagnostic criteria between youth and adults in order to provide clinicians a resource in which a progression of a given disorder can be seen from early childhood in to adulthood. Both the 6th and 7th editions of the Collection reflect these changes and follow the new organizational structure of the DSM-5.

7th Edition Dissemination

- Develop a cost-effective and efficient dissemination method for the Collection, 7th Edition. The intent of dissemination is to spread knowledge and awareness about evidence-based mental health treatments for children and adolescents.

Study Activities

- Continue to identify and implement cost-effective and efficient dissemination methods and partner with agencies/organizations.
 - Post the Collection, 7th Edition on the VCOY website in an easy-to-navigate format
